FIMER JOINS ITALIA SOLARE, STRENGTHENING ITS COMMITMENT TO PHOTOVOLTAICS IN ITALY

FIMER has joined ITALIA SOLARE, the Italian association focused on advancing photovoltaics and smart energy management solutions.

ITALIA SOLARE promotes the growth of distributed renewable generation and its integration with energy storage, smart grids, e-mobility and energy efficiency, while contributing to technical and regulatory discussions on energy policy and acting as a recognized voice in institutional dialogue.

This step supports FIMER's strategy to strengthen its position in Italy's renewable energy market and to contribute to the development of the photovoltaic sector and the evolution of the regulatory and technology landscape.

By participating in workstreams and association activities, FIMER will help shape the regulatory framework, gain access to up-to-date market insights and collaborate with key industry players on innovation and standardization, while reinforcing its engagement with institutional and industrial stakeholders.

FIMER will contribute its expertise in inverter technology and energy solutions to support a more efficient, integrated and sustainable energy system.

Updates on upcoming initiatives will be available at www.fimer.com and social media channels.
